

SOTTO VOCE.

The miserable Hopt matter is soon to be heard in the Supreme Court of the United States. Apropos of this celebrated case, one can not help thinking of the contrast the action of His Excellency the Governor would have formed, to that of Secretary Thomas had it been possible for His Excellency to be spared from Washington at the time, the case was on in this city; instead of vacillating a whole night on the question, whether or not to grant the reprieve, His Excellency would have turned the matter over to Judge McBride to see what he had to say about it, and there would have been an end to the whole thing.

It has been pretty well rumored upon the pavements, for a few days past, that the Tribune men were growing weary of the job of "Americanizing" Utah, and that they were ready to throw the whole thing up. This is upon the same principle that the city avenger periodically wears of the delights of his profession, and betwixt himself of looking about for a successor.

Andrew Jackson, or some one else, used to say: "Trust in God and keep your powder dry." In view of the approach of cholera, it might now be rendered: "Trust in God and keep your premises clean."

The following extract, from a weekly paper, will have a home-like ring about it to ninety-nine out of the one hundred members of the Alta Club:

They were talking of the club. She does not like the club because her better half is too fond of it. To say she detests the club is to put it mildly. "Yes," somebody said, "the club came as near being burned up as possible."

"The club burned! Great heavens, my husband would have been home-ness!"

There is a grocery store near the head of Main street which enjoys among its patrons a peculiar customer. This is an old lady who keeps a small shop in one of the suburbs three or four miles out, who buys her supplies regularly of the dealer in question, but who labors under the drawback of being an inveterate thief. Each Saturday the old lady comes into the store, and two clerks are immediately set apart for her behoof, one to wait upon her, the other to watch her; she invariably spends a neat little sum in replenishing her stock, and she invariably tucks a few small articles, such as a skin of yarn or a can of lemon sugar under her cloak as she jingles out. The dealer is now debating whether it is best to lose the customer or the goods.

Speaking of shop thieves, an occurrence comes to mind which was recently given me by a couple of employees of Z. C. M. L., as one of their business experiences. A country merchant by the name of S— entered the retail department one day with a large carpet sack, and commenced making a number of purchases. As he was well known in the store, no particular notice was taken of his actions, until one of the clerks suddenly missed two pairs of boots which he had placed on the counter only a moment before near to where the country merchant was standing. Shortly afterward Mr. S— went to another part of the store, leaving his carpet sack on the counter behind him, and the clerk, having his suspicions aroused, opened the sack and saw the boots snugly tucked away therein. Calling a comrade as a witness to the proceeding, he closed the sack and the merchant was allowed to leave the store with his booty without molestation. Ten minutes later, however, he was handed a bill which read as follows: "Mr. S—, to Z. C. M. L. Dr., 2 pairs of boots @ $30—$60." He paid the bill and took his receipt without the slightest comment one way or the other.

Somewhat of a dilemma will face the Liberals of the Seventh District in their meeting to-morrow evening; their organ has so persistently denounced the non-educational tendencies of the Mormons, and so long insisted that that people had a passion for groveling in ignorance, that now they are themselves brought face to face with a Mormon proposition to raise funds by taxation for educational purposes, they will hardly know what to make of it; the worst of it is too, that they are understood to be in favor of voting down the proposition, but how to do it without having it go on record that they stood in the way of enlightenment is a puzzle; then, if they should favor the proposition, and the tax should be levied, not one of them would send his children to the school after it was built; altogether, a nice dilemma.

We suppose it will be answered by some of the red-shirted extremists down the street that the Liberals would not send their children to the school because of the Mormon teachings inculcated therein. That there should be any one sufficient of an age to still insist on this exploded "yarn," when the means exist in twenty-one districts in this city for proving the utter falsity of it, is one of the things unaccountable. We have frequently wondered if Governor Murray has not often blushed for his action over the University bill, since he has discovered—as he must have done, if he has had curiosity enough to attend half a day's session of the school—that the cry of religious teaching in the University was all bosh and bugaboo!

Renew Your Age.
Ay, but how? that is the question. In the first place, ladies, discount twenty years from your actual age, by giving a youthful transparency to your complexion with GILLES'S SKIN-FACE SOAP. You can do it; there is no mistake about it; and with absolute safety, too, for the preparation contains no injurious matter. Beware of counterfeits. See that "C. N. CUTTENDEN, Proprietor," is printed on each packet, without which none is genuine. Sold by all druggists at 25c.; three cakes, 60c. Then if your hair be tinged with gray, take off another ten years by converting it into a splendid brown, with HINA'S LUXURIOUS HAIR DYE, which has the double advantage of being the cheapest and best dye in the world.

"This is to certify that I have examined, analyzed and tested Dr. Price's Special Flavoring Extracts of Vanilla, Orange, Lemon, Celery, etc., and find the same strong, fine, made of good material, and therefore gladly commend them for family use."

Nothing but intrinsic merit can account for the enormous sales of Emil Friese's Hamburg Tea, the demand for which is constantly increasing. The reason is obvious to all. It is a purely vegetable preparation, mild, and yet efficient in its action, carrying off all impurities from the system, and imparting a glow and vigor which only those who have used it can appreciate.

every respect. It has large doors, good size ovens, full size water tank and comes quently bakes, boils and heats water in the most satisfactory manner.

Salt Lake City, Utah, August 18th, 1884.
Gentlemen:—Answering your favor concerning the Bismarck Range I per-chased of you, it affords me pleasure in stating that I am well pleased with it, and consider their cooking qualities excellent and their manufacture first-class. As an article of household furniture I look upon the Bismarck not only useful but ornamental.
Respectfully yours,
H. DINWOODIE.

Salt Lake City, Utah, August 15th, 1884.
Regarding your favor of the 12th inst., asking about the Bismarck Range per-chased of you in 1880, I can assure you I consider it superior to anything offered in this market. I have had it in constant use and it has given satisfaction in all particulars, and I can confidently recommend it to any one in want of a first-class Range.
Through my business here as plumber, I have fitted up over 100 Water Jacket attachments for the Bismarck Range in this city, Ogden, Logan, etc., and in every case I am conversant with the Range have given entire satisfaction, both as to the cooking qualities and hot water attachments, for culinary and bath room purposes.
Yours respectfully,
DAVID JAMIE.
